

Seniors—Check Out These Websites For Scholarship Information!

- <http://fastweb.com>

Advertised as the Internet's largest FREE search. Submit your own personalized profile over the web and your results will appear within five minutes.

- <http://fastap.org/fastap/index.asp>

This scholarship requires the student to complete a password-protection profile.

- <http://www.wiredscholar.com>

This is a free financial aid service on the Internet containing thousands of private scholarships, grants, tuition waivers, internships, fellowships and loans.

- <http://collegeboard.com>

This scholarship search requires the student to create a profile. The results will appear when the profile is complete.

- <http://college-scholarships.com/>

The student completes a profile which asks questions regarding the student's talents, hobbies, and other personal characteristics. Scholarship information will appear when the profile is complete.

- <http://www.supercollege.com>

Complete a profile and a free scholarship search will match you up with scholarships. There is a lot of information on scholarship strategies.

- <http://collegelink.com/clnk/scholarship/>

Browse through available scholarships sorted by section and category to find scholarships that you are eligible for.

- <http://www.scholarships.com>

After creating a profile, this site will compare it to their database containing approximately 600,000 college scholarships.

- <http://www.scholarship-usa.com>

World's largest search that requires the student to complete a profile. This profile asks for information regarding sports, hobbies, and unique characteristics.

Courtesy Greater Binghamton College Day